

Stephens' Ink

Thermometer

This is a genuine thermometer. It tells you how hot or how cold the Museum is. Many of these thermometer advertisements were displayed on railway stations advertising 'Stephens' Ink'. This ink is sold in small bottles for using in fountain pens.

They also told you the temperature in degrees ° Fahrenheit.

What is the thing that this board is advertising? S - - - - -' I - - .

What else does it tell you? the T - - - - - .

What is the temperature in degrees Fahrenheit in the Museum today? - - °

What is the hottest temperature on this thermometer? - - °

What is the hottest temperature? F - - - - H - - - .

What is the coldest temperature possible? - °

Is ZERO cold or hot?

What is the temperature in degrees Fahrenheit of Blood Heat? - - - °.

Stephens' Ink

Do you think this thermometer is a good advertisement or not?

.....

Why do you think so?

.....